Florida Archaeology Month General Meeting

This meeting is open to any and all. Join the FAM committee on Friday, May 10 at 3:45 in Sable AB to discuss how FAM is working and to identify future FAM themes. Your attendance and input is appreciated!

FAS Chapter Rep Workshop and Lunch

Join other FAS Chapter Representatives from across the state on Saturday, May 11 at 12pm for lunch and discussion about ways to engage and build your membership. Lunch will be provided for those Chapter Reps who register. Location: poolside patio.

FAS Banquet and Awards

On Saturday evening at 6pm, attendees can enjoy a refreshing cocktail poolside with hors d'oeuvres overlooking gorgeous views of the Crystal River National Wildlife Refuge. The Magnolia Room doors will open at 6:45pm at the Conference Center for the FAS Banquet and Awards Ceremony.

A delicious buffet will start at 7pm where healthy servings of batter fried local fish and roasted rosemary chicken will be served. Three types of salads, lots of veggies, and desserts of baked apple cobbler and coconut layer cake will also be available.

The FAS Awards Ceremony and Keynote Presentation will take place following dinner. The banquet cost is $40 per person. Join us! Dinner and Awards are always great, and often lively—just ask Koski.

FAS 2019 Keynote Speaker

Ms. GiNESSa Mahar, PhD Candidate of the University of Florida, has graciously accepted our invitation to provide the Keynote presentation.

With a Little Help from Our Friends: Investigating Florida's Ancient Fisheries

“Archaeology is a team sport. While the 21st century has brought many new and exciting techniques to the field of archaeology, perhaps the most significant development may have to do with personnel.”

In her Keynote Address, Ms. Mahar will discuss, “the role of students, community members, fisherfolk, and biologists in the investigation of Florida's ancient fisheries, with a focus on the Woodland archaeology of the Gulf Coast. The benefits of Community Archaeology and interdisciplinary research will be discussed as well as the critical role that “Our Team” plays in the detection, investigation, and preservation of Florida's coastal heritage.”

Florida Anthropological Society 2019 Slate of Officers *Affirm Only**

__President, Emily Jane Murray – Emily Jane has a MA in Anthropology from Brandeis University where she focused on public archaeology and site museums in Northeast Florida, and a BA in Communications from Flagler College. She has worked in cultural resource management throughout the Southeastern United States and created numerous outreach tools including videos, activities and museum displays. She currently works as a Public Archaeology Coordinator for the Florida Public Archaeology Network Northeast Region. Her interests include Florida's prehistoric archaeology, historic cemeteries and public archaeology and interpretation. She has served FAS as 1st VP and 2nd VP, each for two years.

__First Vice President, Dr. George Luer – George has been a member of the Florida Anthropological Society for more than 45 years. He is a former FAS President, 1st VP, 2nd VP, and recipient of the Lazarus and Bullen Awards. He has served in editorial capacities for Florida Anthropologist for 40 years and has assembled FAS issues and monographs. With colleague Marion Almy, he defined the Manasota culture of west-central Florida. He is known by colleagues for generosity, hard work, and support of their efforts to publish their findings. He was recently appointed the 2019 Editor of Florida Anthropologist. As a board member, he will strengthen FAS with experience, professionalism, and commitment to the mission of FAS.

__Second Vice President, Rebecca O'Sullivan – Becky earned a BA in Anthropology from the University of Florida and an MA in Applied Anthropology with a concentration in Cultural Resource Management from the University of South Florida. Becky is the Public Archaeology Coordinator for the West Central Regional Center of the Florida Public Archaeology Network. She is currently a board member of the Central Gulf Coast Archaeological Society in St Petersburg. Becky's research interests include public archaeology, heritage interpretation, memory and place-making, as well as related applications for GIS and historic maps. She has previously served as 2nd VP and as an at-large board member.

__Recording Secretary, Jon Simon Suarez – Jon Simon received both his BA and MA degrees from the University of Florida, where he focused on the zooarchaeology of the Thornhill Lake site complex in Volusia County. He has over fifteen years of cultural resource management experience and is currently Logistics Officer for SEARCH, Inc in Jacksonville. He lives in St. Augustine and is a member SAAA. Jon Simon is currently serving his eighth term as recording secretary for the FAS board.

__Treasurer, Joanne Talley – Joanne has served as the Treasurer of FAS for fifteen years. She retired as Administrative Assistant at the Jupiter Island Club in 2009 and currently works as a volunteer for the Palm Beach County archaeologist. She works diligently to raise awareness of and protect archaeological resources in southeast Florida and has contributed to numerous excavations including Mount Elizabeth and Joseph Reed in Martin County. In 2018, she received the Lazarus Award from for her tireless efforts.

__Director-at-Large (3 year term), Dr. Maranda Kles – Maranda is a bioarchaeologist with a research focus on biological and cultural variation in pre-contact Florida. After earning her PhD from the University of Florida in 2013, she was Assistant Professor of Anthropology at the University of Louisiana at Lafayette for four years. Recently returning to Florida, she is Vice President of Archaeological Consultants, Inc., in Sarasota. Maranda is a long standing member of FAS, having attended and presented papers and posters at several meetings, and published in Florida Anthropologist. She looks forward to continuing to develop the influence and impact that FAS has in Florida through public outreach, presentations and publications, and local chapter events.

Please return your ballot to Jason Wenzel, FAS President, via email or mail by May 8, 2019.
