February 2022 NEWSLETTER

CELEBRATING 75 YEARS!

Founded in 1947, the main objective of the Florida Anthropological Society (FAS) is to provide a formal means by which individuals interested in anthropological and archaeological studies in the State of Florida, may come together. In 2022, FAS celebrates our 75th anniversary year! The first issue of The Florida Anthropologist appeared in May 1948. The first Annual Meeting of FAS was held in Gainesville on February 12, 1949, hosted by the local chapter, the Gainesville Anthropological Society. A list of all FAS Annual Meetings and details about the hosts and awards is available on FAS's website at <https://fasweb.org/fas-awards/>.

REGISTRATION FOR THE 2022 ANNUAL MEETING & CONFERENCE WILL BEGIN ON FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 25

PAPERS AND POSTERS - ALL PRESENTERS, REGISTER AND SUBMIT ON FASWEB.ORG

FAS invites the submission of abstracts for paper and poster presentations at the annual meeting and conference, to be held in-person. We encourage submissions about Florida anthropology, archaeology, history, and related topics. Presentations will occur on Saturday, May 7th, 2022. An abstract of no more than 100 words is required from each paper or poster presenter. Individuals may submit only one paper or poster as first author for consideration. All presenters must be FAS members, and should register and pay the appropriate registration fee at the time they submit their abstract. A 20-minute time limit for each paper presentation will be strictly enforced. Abstract submission deadline for papers and posters is March 16, 2022.

SYMPOSIA, PANEL DISCUSSIONS, OR OTHER SPECIAL PROGRAMS

The deadline for proposing an Organized Session, panel discussion, or other special program during the conference is March 16th, 2022. Proposals should include a title, abstract, description of any special set ups or logistics needed, and a list of expected participants or panelists. All submissions will be reviewed by the FAS Conference Committee for approval.

Questions and submissions to southernflorida.fas@gmail.com.

STUDENT PRIZE COMPETITION

Undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in degree granting programs can participate in the FAS Student Paper Prize Competition. The student must submit a paper of original research that contributes to understanding Florida's cultural history. Contestants must register for the conference and submit a copy of their paper by March 16th, 2022. The written paper cannot exceed 2,500 words and must be typed double-spaced. Students are required to make an oral presentation, drawn directly from their written paper, at the in-person conference on Saturday, May 7th, 2022. Previous first place winners of the Student Paper Prize are not eligible. Judging criteria for student papers and oral presentations include quality of writing, overall presentation, quality of arguments and supporting data, and overall contribution to understanding Florida's cultural past and/or present. Prizes will be awarded during the Saturday evening keynote event. Email questions and student paper submissions to mkles90@gmail.com.
